

 Nolato	Occupational Health & Safety Policy	Revision	5
		Issue date	2023-06-06

Nolato Stargard Sp. z o.o.

Nolato Stargard Sp. z o.o. makes every effort to continuously improve working conditions and safety as part of its business.

We achieve this by:

- maintaining and continuously improving our OHS management system, which meets the requirements of ISO 45001:2018 and legal regulations,
- identifying potential hazards and assessing risks at workstations,
- arranging safe and hygienic workstations,
- systematic research and monitoring of working environment conditions,
- providing employees with personal protective equipment appropriate to the type of work performed,
- raising employees' awareness in the field of occupational health and safety and developing a sense of responsibility for their own and others' safety through training,
- responding to problems and non-compliances by implementing corrective and preventive actions and verifying the OHS management system,
- consultations with employees and employee engagement in the field of occupational health and safety.

Each employee is responsible for their own and their colleagues' safety.

The Occupational Health & Safety Policy is known, understood and respected by all employees of the company.
